The Father was Too Late.

James Russell, a farmer, living near Minnieville, Va., close on the trail of his eloping daughter, Mary F. Russell, arrived in Washington yesterday morning a few moments too late to prevent her marriage to Frank Davis, 50 years of age—33 years older than his bride. A telegram which had been sent to the Washington police to prevent the issuance of the license also arrived too late to be effective.

Mr. Davis, accompanied by the girl, arrived in Washington early yesterday forenoon and lost no time in finding their way to the City Hall. In taking out the license he gave his age to the clerk as stated and said that his intended bride was 21 years old.

"She looks much younger," commented the clerk at the desk

"I will swear that she is 21," was the reply of the prospective bridegroom. The couple were directed to Rev. Charles F. Sontag, pastor of Grace Episcopal Church, and they started for his residence, 520 Sixth street northwest.

A detective from headquarters entered the clerk's office a few minutes after the couple left. He had a telegram from the girl's father saying that she was under 18 years of age and to prevent the issuance of a license. The central office man had been gone but a moment when a man laboring under great excitement rushed in the clerk's office and demanded to know if the license had been issued. When told that it had he exclaimed:

"That girl is not yet 17 years of age; you had no right to issue that license."

It was explained to him that the girl herself had said she was 21 years old, and that the man had sworn she was 21, and that there was no alternative for the clerk but to give the necessary permit.

"Somebody must suffer for this," the father exclaimed.

He left the City Hall, saying he would go to the house of the minister named in the application, but such a move was unnecessary, as at that time the couple had already been married and had deported.

Davis is a farmer and lives near Dumfries, Prince William county, where he and his wife will reside.

Jars of a Young Couple.

"I am awfully sorry now at the way I treated her, and if I can find her and bring her back we will kiss and make up and I will be kind to her in the future," said Emil Eichmuller yesterday, for the pretty little 19-year-old wife who, on Saturday night, tried to kill herself because he feigned anger and would not kiss her, has disappeared, after being released from the Harlem Police Court with the injunction to kiss him and make up.

"I cannot live without you, so I will end it all. Keep my picture and love my memory, and in the hereafter I will love you and you only. This is a case of a life for a kiss. Your own Grace."

After writing this note to the young husband, who, she thought, had left her in anger, Grace Eichmuller tried her best to kill herself. Persons in the house, however, found the girl unconscious with a tube attached to a gas jet in her mouth, and she was revived.

When her husband returned yesterday and learned of his wife's attempts to end her life, he was inconsolable.

"Let me tell you my trouble," he said. "I have to tumble out of bed at 3 o'clock in the morning and I don't like to ask my wife to get up, so I go to work without breakfast. I have to take a drink or two to keep me going.

"And now, after dragging her back from death, she has vanished, and I don't know where to turn to search for her. I am in hopes she is with relatives somewhere, and I mean to hunt for her as soon as I can get away from my work."

Charged with Wife Murder.

J. W. Deskins, about fifty years of age, was lodged in jail at Tazewell Sunday night, charged with the murder of his wife.

Early Saturday morning Deskins went to a neighbor and told him that his wife had fallen in the fire and had burned to death. His neighbors immediately went to the house, and found the woman lying on a bed with blood flowing from wounds in her head and side. Her arms were slightly burned, possibly from falling into the fire when attacked.

An officer found a pillow covered with blood in the garret. A hatchet, said to be covered with blood, was discovered behind the chimney, and blood-stained bed clothes were found in different parts of the room. The woman had a gash in her temple about five inches deep.

Deskins' son, who had been sent to neighbors the night previous, upon his return Saturday morning, said he was told by his father that they had no cook now, but that he had one picked out, naming a woman in the community.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health Tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Abandoned Steamer.

Capt. John E. Milburn and crew of the British steamer City of Gloucester, were landed in Boston yesterday by the Norwegian bark Gerd, from Bristol, England, the steamer having been abandoned on March 2. The City of Gloucester left Huelva, Spain, on February 8 with iron ore for New York. She called at St. Michaels and took on board what was thought to be sufficient coal to carry her across the Atlantic. She made good progress until February 25, when, about 500 miles from Sandy Hook, heavy weather was encountered.

For two days she made some headway against the head seas, but the pounding was so severe that on the 27th she sprang a leak. The next day the coal gave out and the crew began to strip the steamer of her woodwork. In the meantime two of her four boats had been smashed by the seas, but when, on March 1, the steamer Admiral Dewey, from Boston for Jamaica, ranged alongside in answer to signals Captain Milburn refused to leave the Gloucester, and only asked for fuel. This the Dewey was unable to supply, and, as Captain Milburn still clung to his ship, the Dewey kept on.

By the next day the leak had gained on the pumps, so when the Gerd hove in sight it was decided to abandon the steamer. The transfer was accomplished with the aid of some of the boats from the Gerd.

Captain Milburn stated last night that the steamer had five feet of water in her hold, and was fast setting when he left her.

No Ice Famine Feared.

There is no foundation for the report sent broadcast that an ice famine in New York city is a certainty during the coming summer because of a great scarcity of the commodity.

The explanation of the American Ice Company that the weather was responsible for the recent advance in prices was merely an excuse put for ward to account for the increased rate.

In the 164 icehouses along the banks of the Hudson, 69 of which are owned by the American Ice Company, there is now approximately two-thirds of a crop, or about 3,000,000 tons—the average amount of ice consumed by New York city every year. Of this amount it is estimated that abou 1900,000 tons were carried over from last year's big harvest, despite the fact that reports emanating from the company's offices makes these figures 300,000 tons.

The statement is made by Mr. Wesley M. Oler, president of the company, that it has harvested only 500,000 tons this year, is pronounced utterly misleading, and it is shown that in an eight-mile stretch of the river from Four-Mile Point, just south of Coxsackie, to Catskill there are a dozen icehouses, some of them independent, that contain 250,000 tons alone, or one-half the entire alleged harvest of the trust.

The fact is that the weather up North has been far more severe than people in New York suppose, and there is no natural scarcity of ice.

The best safeguard against headaches, constipation and liver troubles is DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They don't gripe. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Quick changes from hot to cold and back again try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest and positive remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases are cured in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 6, 1906.

SENATOR REED SMOOT, of Utah, has served three years of his term in the upper house of Congress, and the probability is that he will serve out the full term. The fight against him has become a fiasco. The committee on privileges and elections promises a report in his case before the 1st of April. It seems improbable that Chairman Burrows can secure a majority report against the Senator, and if he should succeed in doing this it is believed the Senate would decline to oust the Mormon. The committee has had the case since December 12, 1903. It has held 54 sessions, and has examined 90 witnesses, 47 for the protestants and 43 for Smoot. The printed testimony covers over 3,000 pages. The presumption is that when the committee reports the Senate will call for the printed testimony as a Senate document and that Senators will want plenty of time to read and digest it. As a body the Senate seems disposed to let the case drag—it would like to escape the responsibility for a final vote. It is even possible that the case will drag until the end of Smoot's term, and that a vote will never be taken.

VICE PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS and Senator McCumber constituted the whole United States Senate for a period of ten minutes one afternoon of last week. Visitors in the galleries looked down with amazement and surprise to see one lone Senator monopolizing the entire floor and the Vice President leaning wearily back in his chair. Mr. Fairbanks and Mr. McCumber were engaged in the tiresome occupation of passing pension bills at the rate of four or five a minute. Every Senator, with the sole exception of Mr. McCumber, had taken to the tall grass. Mr. McCumber, sat in his seat carefully scanning each bill as it was hurriedly read in a loud voice by the clerk and pronounced "passed" by the Vice President And in this way money was voted to men with such records that they could not secure a pension under the most liberal pension laws that were ever enacted!

AT BOTH the State and War Departments it was conceded yesterday that the only news received regarding affairs in China were the press dispatches printed in the papers. It was stated at the War Department that so long as the State Department has no official news of any threatened uprising by the Chinese, no steps could be taken by the military branch of the administration. Still it is currently reported that the United States is ready to throw 25,000 troops into China in short order. But why, only the jingoes can tell.

THE President has issued an order providing that hereafter no person shall be appointed to the position of laborer in any branch of government work except upon certification under the civil service, and all persons so employed shall be subject to the supervision of the Civil Service Commission. Laborers so employed may be classified upon the approval of the commission. A year ago a similar order was made applicable to the departments at Washington. It is now extended to all branches of government work.

FOR a third or fourth time in the course of the past two months the State Department is informed in its dispatches from Santo Domingo that the revolution attending the retirement from the presidency of Morales is at an end. The most recent advices state that the few remaining insurrectos in the northern part of the republic have surrendered to the governor of Monte Christi. The dispatch closes: "The country now is at peace and everything is tranquil."

THE attempt at Springfield, Ohio, to exterminate the negro residents is not the first outrage of the sort that has occurred in that State. It is not many years since it was necessary for a regiment of the national guard to fire on the furious mob that was bent on wrecking a court house in order to get at a negro. But General Keifer, of Ohio, is peculiarly disturbed by the unhappy fate of negroes in the South, as is pertinently remarked by the Philadelphia Record.

A STUDENT of the University of Virginia yesterday resigned from the managership of the track team, giving as his reason the interference of his duties in that capacity with his studies. It is refreshing to know that at least one student at the University, which is now largely supported by the State, regards his studies as paramount to his athletics.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE says perhaps the cold air treatment which has been so successful in pneumonia might be advantageous in the new cases of socialism recently developed. It is suggested that cold water and a ducking stool would prove more efficacious.

THE FACT that both France and Germany are ready for war is an argument of considerable weight on the side of peace.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, March 6.

A national movement is under way to make Washington a "model city." Every member of Congress today received a letter on the subject sent out over the signature of Robert W. DeForest, chairman of the New York State Tenement House Commission of 1900, and others. These are a sub-committee of the national publication committee, organized last year to get at the facts of social conditions and to put them before the public. The committee numbers among the evils to be remedied in Washington: No compulsory school attendance, and 10,000 children last year not attending school; no laws against children's work; no special juvenile court; no all-the-year-around playgrounds; no adequate housing laws, but slum conditions as bad as those of Chicago and New York, without the excuse of being a great industrial center or being crammed between rivers.

District Attorney Baker opened the argument to the jury this morning in case of George E. Green on trial for conspiracy in connection with the Postoffice irregularities. He outlined to the jury the exact points that have been proven by the prosecution in the case. He declared that it made no difference whose money was used to effect the conspiracy, for the facts adduced showed that Beavers' influence was purchased by Green. The evidence showed that Beavers had control of the purchase of time recorders for the Postoffice Department and that he received commissions from Green amounting to about 10 per cent. of the sales. He brought to the jury's attention the signatures of Green as indorsements on checks gotten from the International Time Recording Company, and upon which Beavers drew after their deposit in the bank. This, he said, showed prima facie the fruits of the conspiracy.

The decline of the bicycle industry in the United States in the past five years is graphically presented in a special report by the Census Bureau published today. It shows that the amount of capital invested has decreased from thirty million to six million dollars, that the number of factories has decreased from 312 to 97, and that the total value of products has decreased 84 per cent.

When the Senators assembled today, they were confronted by a large map hanging on the Chamber wall. It was placed there for the convenience of Mr. Long who will speak in favor of the joint Statehood bill.

Robert Jones, 28 years old, of St. Louis, Mo., claims that he was drugged with morphine at a disreputable house last night, and also that he was robbed of $150.

The President today accepted the resignation of Past Assistant Pay master George W. Deering, U. S. navy. It is understood that Deering, who is highly connected in this city, was found guilty by the trial court of serious charges involving irregularities in his official accounts and sentenced to be dismissed from the service. Powerful influence was brought to bear in his behalf to save him from the disgrace of dismissal with the consequence that he has now been allowed to resign his commission as an officer in the navy.

Joseph C. Webster, 28 years old, a marine stationed at Porthmouth, committed suicide suicide at the Marine Barracks, in this city, this morning by cutting his throat. He is from Vermont.

SENATE.

In replying to Mr. Culberson, who gave notice that he would discuss railroad rate legislation Monday, Mr. Tillman, who has been given charge of the Hepburn rate bill, announced that he would endeavor to have that measure taken up immediately after the statehood bill had been disposed of Friday.

When a bill providing for the efficiency of the Medical Department of the army was taken up, Mr. Hale denounced it as an unnecessary attempt to increase the size of the regular army.

The Senator also denounced the general staff of the army, charging that it was being patterned after that of Germany, where he admitted such an organization was necessary in a part of the world where nations were continually trying to grasp each other by the throat. "And then there's China" he exclaimed. "But there will be no war. The Secretary of State is sitting on the lid."

Mr. Tillman laughingly interrupted "It seemed to me that with the Secretary of State sitting on the lid, and the Secretary of War trying to pry it up, the latter would be victorious, (laughter)."

Mr. Hale declared that extra troops had been dispatched to the Philippines, "to send into China if the emergency arises or can be made to arise," he exclaimed. "That will prove a declaration of war against a friendly government."

HOUSE.

Mr. Mann, of Illinois, chairman of the elections committee No. 1, in submitting to the House today the resolution adopted by his committee declaring Anthony Michalek, republican, of Chicago, to be entitled to his seat in the House, which was contested on the alleged ground that he is not a citizen of the United States, submitted also a lengthy report dealing with the various features of the case. It finds that Michalek is a citizen as required by the constitution; that his father, a native of Bohemia, was properly naturalized; that there was never a proper justification for the protest and charges against Michalek. "The charges," says the report, "were recklessly made and untruthfully made. They were based on false affidavits." There was not even a prima facia case made out, the report says, and the committee did not put Michalek on his defense.

The House adopted the resolution without debate or division.

The House passed a bill removing the tax of six cents per pound on leaf tobacco, so that the farmer may sell to the consumer direct without paying the six cents tax imposed on manufactures. It was drafted by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes.

The House then took up the Indian appropriation bill in committee of the whole.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Proceedings of the Court of Appeals yesterday:

American Locomotive Works vs. Hoffman; fully argued and submitted.

The Suburban Company vs. Turner's administrator and others; partly argued and continued.

News of the Day.

The Czar has ordered an election to the national assembly to begin April 8 in Central Russia.

The Senate passed a large number of bills of local importance, including one to compel education in the District of Columbia.

It is stated that the United States Steel Corporation is planning to take over the republic, Tennessee, La Belle and Sloss-Sheffield companies and ore lands, involving more than $450,000,000.

Isaac Winder, the negro who was sentenced to be hanged on March 30 for the brutal murder shortly before Christmas last of Frederick T. Rinehart, keeper of the Dulaney Valley tollgate, about one and one-half miles above Towson, Md., escaped from jail last night.

The House committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce yesterday agreed on a purefood-bill which will be favorably reported to the House. In many respects it is like the Heyburn bill passed by the Senate and the committee agreed to let it have the name and number of that measure, but amended it by adding some provisions of the Heyburn bill and suggestions of members of the House committee.

An attempt by a woman on the life of Vice Admiral Doubassoff, governor general of Moscow and member of the council of the empire, was frustrated yesterday. Representing that she came from personal friends of the governor general, she gained admittance to the chancellery, but her agitation attracted the attention of an aide, who noticed particularly the luxuriance of the woman's hair, which was coiled high upon her head. When she was interrogated she attempted to flee, but was seized and searched, and a small bomb was discovered concealed in her tresses.

President Roosevelt sent a message to Congress yesterday accompanying plans for coast defense, prepared by a joint board of army and navy officers, in which he emphasized the necessity for further defenses and reviews the history of the defensive works in this country. The President calls especial attention to the recommendation of the board that the entrance to Chesapeake bay be added to the list of places in the United States to be defended. He says the insular possessions cannot be longer neglected if the United States desires to hold them.

In the municipal elections in Maine yesterday, the democrats made striking gains in several Maine cities. Auburn and Rockland, the latter Gov. Cobb's city, both of them republican strongholds, were captured by the democrats. Waterville, which last year elected a prohibitionist mayor, was carried by the democrats. South Portland, which had a democratic mayor and a republican city council, was carried by the democrats. Saco continues under the combined administration of citizens and democrats. Lewiston continues democratic.

Representative Southall, of the Fourth Virginia district, was elected yesterday by the Virginia delegation as the Virginia member of the democratic congressional campaign committee. Representative Marynard's name was also before the caucus, but he withdrew before a vote was taken. The newly elected committee will meet tonight for the purpose of electing a chairman to succeed Mr. Cowherd, who was defeated for re-election to this Congress. The election of Judge Griggs, of Georgia, to the chairmanship is assured. It has been supposed that Charles A. Edwards, who has been secretary of the committee for four years, would be chosen secretary again, as he and Mr. Griggs are especially close friends, but ex-Representative Dinsmore, of Arkansas, is understood to be a candidate for the position and may land it.

Virginia News.

John D. Tucker Brooke, of Norfolk, will be a candidate for nomination for Congress to succeed Harry L. Maynard.

Mrs. Matilda Masten died at "Campbelton," the home of her relative, Col. Robert Washington, in Westmoreland, Monday, aged 55 years.

Mrs. Nancy J. Howland, widow of the late H. H. Howland, died suddenly Thursday night at her home, near Edge Hill, King George county, of apoplexy.

Marion Brock, colored, for whom the officers of Culpeper have been looking for sometime, was captured yesterday evening by the police of that town. He was recently released from the Virginia penitentiary and is wanted for several offences one of them shooting, with intent to kill John Lewis.

Mrs. Maggie Daly, formerly Miss Maggie Switzer, of Fredericksburg, attempted suicide Sunday by stabbing herself in the temple with a pair of scissors. She was home on a 60-day furlough from the Western State Asylum, at Staunton, as it was thought that her mind was restored. She left the house and was found by her mother in an outhouse on the premises. Her head was covered with blood and the scissors were imbedded in her temple. Her mother, in trying to extract the scissors, broke one blade off in the daughter's head. But for prompt medical attention she would have bled to death. She will be returned to the asylum as soon as she is able to travel.

The Richmond police last night arrested a young white man named George Wade, who attempted to shoot Rev. James Buchanan at the Associated Charities Home on Saturday evening. For some time the young man had occupied a room at the home. Complaints had been made recently that he had defaced the walls of his room, and on Saturday evening Mr. Buchanan, the secretary, chided him. The young man became angry, went out and secured a pistol. He returned to the office of the institution in a few minutes and fired point blank at the secretary. Fortunately the bullet went wide of the mark, but came near striking Mr. Buchanan's assistant, Mr. R. N. Humphreys. Wade then ran out and disappeared.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Phlegar amendment to the voting trust bill, which became a law without the signature of Governor Montague in 1903, was taken up by the Senate yesterday. Senator Sears' amendment to invalidate the action of voting trusts previous to the Caton bill was defeated, and the Phlegar amendment, which makes legal the act of voting trusts previous to the Caton bill, but hereafter limits them to five years, was engrossed and then passed. The debate on the bill brought out the fact that the old Thomas F. Ryan-John Skelton Williams fight over the Seaboard was involved in the amendments, and that the Sear's amendment would invalidate the action of the 10-year voting trust of the Seaboard formed by Williams, who desired the amendment invalidating its act, whereas on the other hand it was averred that the Phlegar amendment would be of advantage to Ryan.

The Senate adopted the conference report on the general appropriation bill after the House had receded from its stand in refusing the Senate amendment placing the University tuition fee at $10. It was said that President Alderman advised that it had better remain at $10 than to have a fight over it, and his suggestion was accepted.

The Machen resolution, providing for the facilitation of the work of the Senate during the last week of the session by holding three sessions daily, was defeated at the afternoon session.

The Senate devoted a good deal of time to discussing the bill passed by the House providing that cities may levy taxes on abutting property owners for purposes of street improvements, but this went over.

By unanimous vote the Senate agreed to the conference report on the Thomas bill, providing a means for the issuance of county bonds for road improvement.

At the night session the Senate passed about forty uncontested bills, among them:

To establish and maintain a system of public high schools and to appropriate money therefor.

To authorize the cities and towns of this Commonwealth to acquire by purchase, gift or condemnation, property.

To authorize and empower the several cities of the Commonwealth to condemn property and conferring the power of eminent domain for the purpose of acquiring water sheds for the several cities and the necessary lands for laying water pipes, etc.

HOUSE.

Mr. Byrd called up his resolution for an inquiry into the cost of school books in Virginia, and it was passed.

The resolution for an investigation of the affairs of the Eastern State Hospital, at Williamsburg, was also passed.

The House granted the request of Delegate Puller to suspend the rules and take up his bill in relation to changing the boundaries of wards in cities. The bill passed by a vote of 67 to 8.

The Senate bill to create five new judicial circuits was called up on a special order. Its passage was secured by striking out the emergency clause. The House added the Twenty-ninth circuit by making Amherst, Nelson, Buckingham and Fluvanna the counties to constitute the circuit. The Senate concurred in the House amendment by a vote of 24 to 13.

Mr. Lane had read a petition signed by seventy-eight citizens of Mathews county, protesting against the labor immigration bill inspired by the State commissioner of labor. The bill asks an appropriation of $10,000 for aiding the immigration of European laborers to Virginia.

Mr. Bland offered an amendment to the bill when it came up, requiring immigrants to produce certificates of good character from the person for whom they worked last, before being admitted into the State. The amendment was adopted. The bill was then engrossed and read the third time, after which it was passed by a vote of 58 to 18.

The House passed the supplemental appropriation bill, carrying $415,000 for Jamestown and various public institutions, as well as the measure to prevent the redistricting of cities for five years, except by a four-fifths vote of councils. At the night session the bill removing the limit of $10,000 liability on corporations in cases of death or injury, was engrossed, as was the Caton bill, extending the provisions of the pension laws, so as to include the widows of Confederate soldiers who were married as late as 1866

The bill of Mr. Caton to distribute the tax upon the rolling stock of corporations among the counties through which the lines of road operate, was debated at length and went over until today.

There was a sharp spat over House bill relating to the sale of delinquent lands. McRae got in an amendment wiping out all delinquent taxes on land from 1878 until 1883, and there were several other amendments offered and adopted. Mr. Caton moved that the time within which to redeem should be one year instead of four months, and this was adopted. The House by a vote of 50 to 24 refused to engross the bill.

Mr. Puller spoke for his bill aimed at "wild cat" insurance companies, requiring all companies chartered in the State to make deposits of $10,000 as an evidence of good faith, and it was engrossed.

Charges Against a Minister.

Rochester, N. Y., March 6.—Rev. Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, who is to be tried at Batavia on April 17, on charges of heresy, has made public the presentment of charges made against him. Two charges, the first comprising some fifteen sub-charges and the second five sub-charges, are made. They are based largely upon Dr. Crapsey's utterances in sermons and in his book, "Religion and Politics." In substance the first charges accuse Dr. Crapsey of declaring and teaching doctrines contrary to those taught by the Protestant Episcopal Church, quotations from his book appearing under the various specifications. He is also charged with denying the divinity of Christ, Christ's Virgin birth, the resurrection and the doctrine of the trinity. Further it is charged that he violated canon 23 of the general canons of the church by violating ordination vows, in that he denied the divine inspiration of the old and new testaments.

Letter from Richmond.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, March 5.—The members of the legislature are very much perturbed in regard to the disposition of the various important measures still pending before that body. They realize, notwithstanding the fact that the members have been working morning noon and night, and notwithstanding the fact that from the general nature and amount of legislation enacted, a careful consideration of the various measures has been impossible. That legislation, to say the least, has been necessarily hasty, and many of the most important measures affecting the rights of the people, such as the two cent rate bill, the Williams insurance law, a bill to confer upon the Corporation Commission power to regulate water companies, prescribe rates and stop discrimination, etc., and many other equally meritorious measures and numerous local bills effecting the growth, prosperity, and general welfare of the locality specially and the State's progress generally, will, in all probability, fail to become laws. They are entirely condemnatory of the framers of the constitution who foisted on the people a constitution by proclamation in the framing of which practically a year was consumed and limited (after requiring as a constitutional provision a roll call on all bills passed) the legislature under a constitution with many inovations to sixty days to legislate for the State for two years. The corporate influence has been active in stopping all steps toward an extension of the present or the calling of a special session; they realize that that influence is potent in the influencing and retarding legislation. They also feel agrieved at the attitude of certain newspapers and their editorials, condemnatory of the legislators, realizing that in their molding of public opinion they are working on a false basis, and like all people who are ignorant of the many messures affecting the people and which cannot be gathered from the titles of bills whose true merit isonly brought out in committee, were they properly in possession of said editors they would change the tenor of their thoughts and pen. When you take in consideration the fact that eighty per cent. of the messures introduced are matters affecting the courts, schools, counties, cities and towns and cannot be reached under a sixty days session as founded by the new constitution, it is plain that an extra session is of vital necessity. If those members of the general assembly who are continually damning the new constitution do not stand for an extra session they should stop howling against what by their actions they are perpetrating. B.

[Our correspondent, concerning short sessions of the legislature, doth protest too much and his letter may lead many to think that he is personally interested in the effort being made for an extension of the session.]

REACHING A CRISIS

A dispatch from Algeciras says: Yesterday afternoon's sitting of the conference on Moroccan affairs was marked by an unexpected and important move on the part of the Russian delegates, who laid before the conference an exposition of the police question. The document, which minutely goes over the existing situation in Morocco and analizes the position of the various powers, concludes with an argument for the proposition that France and Spain are the most fit to be intrusted with the task of controlling the police force which is about to be created.

The British, Spanish, and Portuguese delegates expressed their concurrence in the Russian views. Italy, however, though inclined to favor the scheme, reserved final approval. Count von Tattenbach, the junior German delegate; Henry White, the chief of the American delegation, and the delegates of the several neutral powers did not express their views.

The French and British delegates to the conference regard yesterday's expressions from the Mediterranean powers as likely to exert great influence on the final vote of the neutrals relative to the policing of Morocco.

In the French Chamber of Deputies yesterday War Minister Etienne, answering inquires regarding the condition of the war supplies, said that every branch of supplies and ammunition was completely assured in case of a mobilization of the troops.

Forced to Have a Doctor.

The Chicago health department is justified in forcibly interfering in cases of extreme sickness where services of a physician are refused by relatives of the patient, according to an opinion given yesterday by Corporation Counsel Lewis.

Since the advent of John Alexander Dowie in Chicago, many cases of this nature have been brought to the notice of the city authorities, but no definite action had been taken until yesterday, when prayer, instead of medicine or surgery, was used in the treatment of Mrs. Ella Turner, a believer in Dowie's teachings.

The woman had been suffering for more than 24 hours, and her life was in imminent peril, as her condition called for an immediate operation. Instead of calling a physician, the woman's husband and relatives appealed to Overseer Volvis, of Zion City, who sent one of his deacons to pray for the patient.

The woman's cries of pain attracted a neighbor, who reported the case to the police. Health Commissioner Chas. J. Whalen secured from Corporation Counsel Lewis an opinion that the health department was justified in interfering with such an extreme case, and sent a physician to attend the woman, and her suffering was stopped.

Physical Culture Cured

As a result of the treatment of Melville Daniels, the physical culture expert, Harry Wakefield, the man who was dying from hiccoughs in Richmond, has been restored to health. He is now able to sleep eight hours without awakening and eats almost normally.

Mr. Daniels took the case only last Thursday, after two physicians in Norfolk and one in Richmond had been baffled. Gradually and surely that most peculiar of all diseases was taking Wakefield's life. He could neither eat nor sleep and was dwindling away to a shadow.

It required but three days for Mr. Daniels to perform his cure and now the man is practically well and walking about.

Dancers Fell Into Flames.

Florence, Italy, March 6.—During a family dance at Fucecchio, a quantity of straw beneath the room in which the dancing was going on caught fire. The floor of the room collapsed and the dancers fell into the flames. Sixteen corpses have been recovered.

Today's Telegraphic News

Miners and Operators.

New York, March 6.—The anthracite operators, headed by George Baer, president of the Reading Company, met here today to consider the miners' demands, or what John Mitchell terms "proposals," and to name a day for the joint conference with the miners' representatives. The "proposals" have been under consideration by the operators for more than a week, but no official statement regarding them has been made. President Wilcox, of the Delaware & Hudson Company, said this morning that he had no statement to make as to the attitude of the operators toward the miners' demands. Intimations were made by John B. Kerr, vice president of the New York Ontario & Western Railroad, a member of the operators' committee, that no statement would be made after the meeting concluded today. It is likely that the operators will appoint a day this week for a joint conference with the operators for Mr. Kerr states that the operators are anxious to complete the business as soon as possible. The joint conference will probably last some time as the operators have fortified themselves with statistics bearing on the eight hour day and an advance in wages. As the miners have collected no end of data and statistical ammunition, in support of their contentions, there will be a fine battle of figures which may last some time. C. J. Wittonberg, of the Chesapeake & Ohio Coal and Coke Company is the authority for the statement that Mr. Baer and the operators will flatly refuse to grant the demands for absolute recognition of the union. The operators will also oppose the granting of a further increase in wages and a reduction in hours. It is the contention of the operators that the miners work less than six hours a day and that only the company hands and breaker boys work the regulation nine hours day.

Shamokin, Pa., March 6.—Officers of the mine workers local in the ninth United Mine Workers district received notice today to meet here tomorrow night to hear a report of members of the union now in New York concerning an agreement with the coal companies.

Breach of Promise Suit.

New York, March 6.—Miss Sarah Maddern, an actress, began suit today in the Supreme Court to recover $50,000 from Peter Duryea, millionaire horse breeder and partner of W. E. D. Stokes, in the Patche Wilkes stock farm at Lexington, Ky. Miss Maddern alleges breach of promise of marriage. The complaint states that she became acquainted with the defendant in March 1897, and the following year "in response to a request from him, I promised to marry him." Since that time she has refused many advantageous offers from others, she says, and as Mr. Duryea has refused to keep his promise she demands balm to the extent of $50,000. In a bill of particulars, given to the plaintiff, the names of four men are mentioned with whom in the years from 1897 to 1904 she is alleged to have improperly conducted herself.

Counsel for Duryea deny that their client ever offered to marry the actress, and he declares that the woman was never any more to him than she had been to a half dozen other men. Miss Maddern says that when he proposed to her she was ill. "He invited me to his stock farm, where he placed me under the care of Dr. Stickney. I was there three months and Mr. Duryea paid the bill, $1,000. Then Mr. Duryea sent me to Europe. When I returned I joined Rose Coghlan's company playing in 'Peg Woffington.'" Mr. Cohen, for the defense, has two photographs which he will offer in evidence. There is an inscription on the back of each. One reads: "To Peter. In remembrance of a very happy night. Sara Maddern." The inscription on the back of the other reads: "Peter, believe me I am not as good as I look. Truly, Sallie." Duryea recently married Miss Viola Allen, the well-known actress.

Kaiser Wants to Compromise?

Berlin, March 6.—The Morken Post says today that it learns from a diplomatic source that Emperor William not only intends to conclude a compromise regarding Morocco fully satisfactory to France, but also desires to arrange a meeting between the Kaiser and President Fallieres of France, at Marseilles, during the emperor's forthcoming cruise in the Mediterranean. The Kaiser's visit to Marseilles will be a sensational set-off to his visit last year to Tangier, Morocco. The Emperor's presence on French soil, as the guest of the President of France, is expected to transform the Germanophobes to Germanophiles.

The Frankfurter Zeitung, an influential newspaper and at times having official inspiration, states today that in government circles the international situation is regarded as critical, and that Europe today is as near war as last summer, when Germany was on the verge of a conflict with France and England.

Eloped in a Boat.

Philadelphia, March 6.—To wed the girl of his choice, James Bright, of Martins' Village, yesterday rowed with her across the Delaware, after being pursued to the water's edge by the young woman's mother, reinforced by a mounted policeman. Lizzie Price, 16 years old, of 107 Reed street, is the girl whom the mother accused Bright of kidnapping. Mrs Price saw her daughter meet Bright at Front and Reed streets yesterday afternoon. She followed them as they ran to the Mifflin street wharf, calling for the aid of Mounted Policeman Selby, who nearly caught up to the fugitives as they reached the water's edge. Grasping the girl Bright sprang into a boat and speedily rowed clear of the wharf, heading toward Gloucester.

Death of the Beverley Brothers.

Died in Henderson, Kentucky, 25th of February, 1906, Wm. Posey Beverley, esq., aged 87. He was born in King George county, Va., his father being William Beverley and his mother Sarah Ann Thornton Taliaferro Posey. One of his last acts was to direct a newspaper to his brother, Henry, in Denver, who, unknown to William, had died two days before. They were grandsons of Mary Alexander, daughter of John Alexander and Lucy Thornton. Their grandfather, Gen. Thomas Posey, was not a Posey by blood, but by quasi adoption only. The Beverleys were Virginia gentlemen of the old school, descending from the historical family of that name.

Lexington, Mo., March 3.

Well Worth Trying.

W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., says: "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Life Pills." He writes: "They keep my family in splendid health." Quick cure for Headache, Constipation and Biliousness. 25c. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons drug store.

An Unmarried Jury.

Chicago, March 6.—"All married men have faults, but they will not admit it; I want a jury of unmarried men. They will be fair to me."

This was the declaration of Mrs. Henrietta Eames, who appeared in Judge Gary's court yesterday to defend divorce suit brought by John H. Eames.

Wealthy clubmen of Chicago and other cities have been named by Eames, while Mrs. Eames, in a series of cross bills, has accused a prominent suburban society leader, two young Chicago women and her own negro maid.

Eames' testimony yesterday concerned the alleged athletic and liquor-consuming habits of his wife. Mrs. Eames, he said drank large quantities of gin, beer and whisky, threw beer bottles at him, slapped his face, called him names and hit him with a baseball bat.

Alleged Anarchist Plot.

Boston, March 6.—A desperate anarchist plot to destroy the Boston Tunnel, docks and other corporation property in this city, by dynamite and fire, was disclosed to Colonel Pole, chairman of the Board of Police, in an anonymous letter and apparently from a respectable Italian resident from the north end. The informer intimates to the police that the letter is written by the brother of an Italian employed in the quarries at Barre, Vermont, who has been visiting at that place. The writer explains that he attended a meeting of seven or eight Italians at Barre, a short time ago, and that during that meeting the plot was discussed and the plans made, though no definite time was set for its execution

Seeking Pardon for Shepard.

Paris, March 6.—The minister of justice, M. Chaumie, has instructed the procurator general to postpone indefinitely the incarceration of Elliott Fitz Shepard, son of the late Colonel Elliott Fitz Shepard, of New York. This means that influence has been brought to bear for a pardon for the young man, which will probably be granted in the course of time. Mr. Shepard, on October 26 last, was sentenced to three months imprisonment and $120 fine, and to pay $4,000 damages to the parents of Madeline Marduel, who was killed by Mr. Shepard's automobile in the preceding April.

Died from Broken Heart?

Boston, March 6.—Dr. John Harris Pettee, who was one of the witnesses against Dr. Percy D. McLeod in the so called Geary dress suit case murder, died yesterday at the home of a medical acquaintance, on Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands, of a broken heart, and a general collapse brought on by worry over the publicity attending his connection with the famous case. There was an aftermath to the case, Dr. McLeod being expelled from the Massachusetts Medical Society. The charge against Dr. Pettee, as against Dr. McLeod, was unprofessional conduct.

Marine Disaster.

New York, March 6.—On the bulletin board of the Maritime Exchange are posted today the names of one steamer and five schooners which were either wrecked or were abandoned in the terrific gale which swept the Atlantic last week. So many vessels are over due that shipping men believe that the list of shipwrecks as the result of this storm will reach 50 and possibly 100.

Asserts His Innocence.

St. Petersburg, March 6.—Father Gapon, leader of the St. Petersburg workingmen during the massacre of bloody Sunday, who is now in this city, has published a letter in all the newspapers, in which he asserts his innocence of the charges which have been made against him, that he had been in the pay of the government and denying that he has had any connection with the police. In his letter Father Gapon asks that he be tried, so that his innocence can be shown.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 6.—The stock market after the strong opening reacted moderately, but the trading element was disposed to work for higher prices. The gossip of trouble that was current yesterday has been turned today into romances about private settlements.

Conferences.

The Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South will be held this year in Cumberland, Md The conference will meet on the 28th inst. Bishop Atticus W. Wilson, of Baltimore, will preside. A number of ministers will be transferred from churches from which they are now stationed, their terms having expired by limitation. Among the number will be Rev. J. P. Stamp, now in charge of the church in this city. Mr. Stamp is one of the most generally known and popular ministers of the Gospel who has ever been stationed in this city, and his necessary removal from our midst will be regretted by all.

The coming session of the Baltimore Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, which is to be held in Madison Avenue Church, Baltimore, beginning March 28, promises to be of unusual interest, due to the fact that two new presiding elders are to be selected. Bishop Fowler is to preside over the conference. The conference district is to be enlarged in two particulars. No less than 12 churches in the Alexandria district of the Virginia Conference will be taken over, as well as several charges in the West Virginia Conference. The annexation of a part of the Alexandria district, which has been discussed ever since the last session, will be brought up, and it is likely that some opposition will be forthcoming from certain ministers on the floor of the Conference.

The Approaching Season.

Fishing season will soon be in evidence again, and within a short time the operators at the different shores will be in readiness for the spring's catch. Preliminaries are now in progress and ere long the gillers will be preparing for business. A few herring, it is reported, are now being taken in the river and occasionally a stray shad is landed. There is a plethora of yellow perch in the river, but they are mostly small. They are being caught in large numbers in Hunting creek and are daily hawked through the streets even while alive. These fish, which are of the black bass family, attain to large size and it is often suggested that were they allowed to remain in the water and reach their full growth they would when caught bring good prices. Some black bass of large size are being taken, while more large-sized white perch are seen in market than formerly. Bass and perch, however, always bring fancy prices and keep out of the reach of the masses.

Opera House.

A plain story of a plain people plainly told is the real heart of literature and a play founded upon such a subject must, of necessity contain, the heart interest that is the disideratum of the playwright. Mr. Fred Raymond has embodied in his beautiful home story of "The Missouri Girl" that essential element, and an evening spent at the theater, witnessing this play is as beneficial as it is entertaining. It is a true story of the simple people who inhabit that region of Missouri where the Ozark Mountains rear their wooded heads. It is most naturally told and each act of the play is generously equipped with all the special scenery that can be utilized. This play will be seen at the Opera House tomorrow night.

Demolition of a Steamer.

The old steamer Kent, which has been lying at Reardon's wharf for the past two years, is gradually being dismantled. As has heretofore been stated, the Kent was built in Baltimore 52 years ago, and during the greater part of her life ran between the monumental city and points on Chesapeake bay and its tributaries. The steamer in its old age was placed upon the Potomac and for some time plied between Washington, Alexandria and river landings. She finally became unserviceable and was docked at this port where she later sank. In a short time all her upper works will have been removed. It is said that the hull will be converted into a houseboat.

The Curtin Murder Case.

The examination of George Patterson and Stephen Davis, arrested about two weeks ago on suspicion of being connected with the murder of George R. Curtin will take place in the Corporation Court room tomorrow morning. The prosecution will be conducted by Mr. S. G. Brent and the accused will be represented by Mr. C. C. Carlin. Both sides are ready to go into the case. Several days, it is thought, will be consumed in the examination of the large number of witnesses that have been summoned. A large crowd of spectators will doubtless be present.

Sunday School Officers.

The following officers were elected last night at a meeting of the teachers of the Methodist Protestant Sunday school: N. S. Greenaway, superintendent; H. M. Hantzmon, first assistant superintendent; Virginia Roxbury, superintendent of primary; Fred. Ebhardt, secretary; Chas. Hantzmon, treasurer; Emma Hantzmon, pianist; Vera Germond, first assistant pianist, and Ethel McDonald, second assistant pianist.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Richard Blair, arrested by Officer Beach charged with damaging property, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Nora Green, colored, arrested by Officer Bettis charged with contempt of court, was fined $5.

Schooner in a Storm.

Captain Curley, of the schooner Sidonia Curley, was in Baltimore yesterday seeking two anchors and cables. He reports that during the gale of last week while anchored off the Potomac river, bound from Washington for York river, both anchors were lost. He got under way and sailed his vessel to Layton's wharf without having to seek an anchorage.

"The Clansman."

"The Clansman" was presented at Columbia Theatre, in Washington, last night before a large audience including many from this city. The play is from Rev. Thomas Dixon's two books, "The Leopard's Spots" and "The Clansman." The play is a portrayal of the scenes enacted in the South during the reconstruction days which followed the war, and is said to be not an overdrawn picture of those dreadful days. The audience was largely in sympathy with the play and vociferously applauded the southern sentiments which were expressed, completely drowning the few hisses from those in opposition to southern ideas. During the play Mr. Dixon was twice called before the curtain and was heartily applauded. The speech was a defense of the play, which has been assailed by the critics. These critics, said the author, were the newspapers, and not the audiences. He said his play represented conditions in the South as he knew them. The play was well presented and the acting of the principal characters was good.

Amendment to Quarantine Regulations.

Secretary Shaw has issued the following notice to national, State and local officers, collectors of customs:

Paragraph 68 (c), quarantine regulations of 1903, as amended by Department Circular 30, March 30, 1904, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

PARAGRAPH 68 (c): If arriving at a port south of the southern boundary of Maryland in the season to close quarantine, March 15 to November 1, directly or via a northern port, unless said port is known to be free from yellow fever.

The effect of this amendment is to cause the close quarantine season to begin March 15 instead of April 1, with regard to vessels from ports known or suspected of being infected with yellow fever, and arriving at southern ports, either direct or via northern ports.

Personal.

Mrs. Henry Strauss, continues extremely ill at her home on Prince street.

Mr. W. J. Cassabone, of Alexandria, and Miss Elizabeth Elliot, of Front Royal, were married in Washington yesterday by Rev. J. B. McLaughlin, at No. 409 G street northeast.

Mr. and Mrs P. J. Dempsey have returned from Savannah, where Mr. Dempsey has been on business for the government in connection with the Greene and Gaynor trial.

Miss Esther Brookes is visiting Mrs. Charles H. Carter, at her residence in Baltimore.

Had His Hat Stretched.

The pleasing appearance and excellent preaching of Dr. W. F. Fisher, in our meeting just closed, so strongly appealed to our people that they manifested in many ways their approval thereof. Bouquets, literal and figurative, came to him in large numbers. Far be it from us to say that the good doctor's head was turned by these expressions, but we are stating only a bare fact when we say that to our certain knowledge he had his hat stretched twice during his stay with us.—[Martinsburg, W. Va., Baptist.

Japanese Tea.

The Junior Daughters of Mary Custis Lee Chapter, U. D. C, opened their Japanese tea room in Confederate Veterans' Hall yesterday afternoon. These ladies had, as usual, displayed considerable taste in all the arrangements, and when the doors were opened there was nothing that could have been suggested to add to the pleasant surroundings, and all their guests were pleased with the entertainment. The room will be reopened next Saturday, and the teas will be given every Monday and Saturday evening from 3 to 6 o'clock during the present month. Hot chocolate will be served on the next occasion.

A Distressing Accident.

Purvis, the two-year-old son of Mr. George Reynolds, was the victim of a serious accident at his home on Commerce street shortly after noon today. A kettle of hot water had been placed upon the floor, and the child innocently seated himself upon it, and in attempting to rise he overturned the kettle, the contents of which ran over his legs and the lower part of his body, scalding him seriously. Dr. Arthur Snowden was summoned to attend the sufferer.

Insurance Paid.

The officers of Calvert Council, Royal Arcanum, of Baltimore, have paid to Mrs. Charlotte G. Macalester, widow of Rev. W. H. Macalester, $3,000, the amount of the latter's insurance in the order. The deceased, who was at one time paster of Trinity M. E. Church in this city, was a member of Alexandria Council.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says that Mrs. Potter Palmer is going to marry the Duke of Athole. In that case she will be the wife of Duke Marquis and Earl of Athole (Sir John James Henry Hugh Stewart Murray, K. T.)

Dink Russell, of Philadelphia, received the decision over George Memsie at the end of ten rounds of desperate fighting at Indianapolis, Ind., last night. Russell was on top of Memsi from the tap of the gong, but he was unable to deliver the punch that would have returned him the winner by the knock-out route.

The new postoffice at Luzerne, Pa., was burglarized at 2 o'clock this morning. The large safe was blown open and the interior of the building wrecked. Four hundred dollars in cash and $100 worth of stamps were taken by the burglars, who escaped.

A dispatch from Rochester, N. Y., says that Susan B. Anthony's condition is serious. For some days she has been suffering in one lung from pneumonia, which has attacked the other lung. A physician is with Miss Anthony constantly.

Augustus Heinze is reported to have lost from $2,000,000 to $6,000,000 in the storm that broke over Wall street yesterday and other operators of almost equal importance are known to have lost heavily.

Plead Guilty.

New York, March 6.—Bertha Claiche who has been on trial for some days on a charge of murder in the first degree, was permitted today to plead guilty to a charge of manslaughter in the first degree. This sudden termination of the case followed a long conference during recess between District Attorney Jerome and Messrs. Levy and Rosalsky, counsel for the prisoner.

The maximum imprisonment for Bertha Claiche's plea manslaughter in the first degree is twenty years. It is the general opinion that the term of imprisonment fixed will be much below that, as the judge can impose any sentence up to that that he may see fit. Miss Claiche fainted after she had plead guilty.

Armstrong Investigating Committee.

New York, March 5.—District Attorney Jerome in person went before the March grand jury this morning, and presented to them all the evidence in his possession, based upon his own personal investigation of the report of the Armstrong investigating committee, and requested them to give it their keenest consideration, looking to indictments charging grand larceny against certain insurance officials. As a result of Mr. Jerome's speech of half an hour, the grand jury went into secret session and subsequently filed a presentment with Judge O'Sullivan, Part I. Court of General Sessions.

Czar to be Supreme.

St. Petersburg, March 6.—An imperial manifesto, explaining the scheme for the reorganization of the council of the Empire and the establishment of the Douma, or national assembly, was issued today. The chief feature of the manifesto is the declaration that the autocratic Czar will remain supreme. The Czar has removed many restrictions fettering the Roman Catholics, and governors of provinces are deprived of the power of closing monasteries upon their own initiative. The right to hold processions is assured and the privileges of the Douma are much extended.

Rule Denied.

Trenton, N. J., March 6.—The right of the Bergen county court to grant a rule to show why a new trial should not be granted Mrs. Tolla, the Hackensack murderess, was denied today by the Court of Errors. The woman's counsel will now appeal to the Court of Pardons. Her reprieve from the gallows expires Monday.

Verdict of Guilty.

Spartansburg, S. C., March 6.—The jury in the case of the State against George Hasty for the murder of the two actors, Bennett and Davidson, this morning returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree with a recommendation to mercy. His sentence is a life term in the penitentiary. His attorneys will move for a new trial based on technical grounds. Hasty is alleged to have insulted a lady member of a theatrical company and when remonstrated with by David on and Bennett, he shot them both dead. Hasty was proprietor of the hotel at which the theatrical company stopped.

A Story of Alexandre Dumas.

This story is told of Alexandre Dumas: It is well known that he could not refuse a request—at least not often. One day he gave a man a letter to one of his intimate friends in Brussels. The friend, a wealthy merchant, received him as though he had been Dumas' own brother, introduced him to his circle of acquaintances, placed his stable at the man's disposal and did everything in his power to make life pleasant for Dumas' friend. After the lapse of fourteen days the man denly disappeared and with him the best horse in the merchant's stable. Six months later the merchant visited Dumas and thanked him for the kind of people he recommended to his consideration. "Dear friend," he added, "your friend is a shark. He stole the best horse in my stable." Astonished, Dumas raised his hands toward heaven and cried, "What, he stole from you too!"

Mazeppa and the Cossacks.

The word cossack means robber, and the name Cossacks was given by the Turks to a race in manners, appearance and language like the Russians, but who are said not to be really akin to them. The Cossacks of Little Russia and the Don Cossacks are said to be the most unscrupulous robbers in the world. They excel in horsemanship and form a large part of the Russian imperial cavalry. Styled sometimes the spies of the czar, they keep the nihilists in greater check than any other power and number many more than a million men. Mazeppa, a Don Cossack, the subject of Byron's poem, when condemned to be bound upon a wild horse and borne away to his fate, was carried toward the Ukraine, on the borders of Poland, and, being rescued by Cossacks, became their chief.

Violet For Mourning.

It was not by accident that violet was chosen by many nations as the exclusive color for mourning and by us also for half mourning. Painters suffering from hysteria and neurasthenia will be inclined to cover their pictures uniformly with the color most in accordance with their condition of lassitude and exhaustion. Thus originate the violet pictures of Manet and his school, which spring from no actually observable aspect of nature, but from a subjective view due to conditions of the nerves. When the entire surface of walls in salons and art exhibitions of the day appears veiled in uniform half mourning this predilection for violet is simply an expression of the nervous debility of the painter.—Nordau's "Degeneration."

A Broad Hint.

Sir Andrew Agnew of Lucknow, a well known Scotch baronet, was long pestered by an impudent sort of person, who insisted on being constantly "underfoot." Finally, however, he dropped off, and Sir Andrew was asked how he got rid of him.

"Oh," said he, "I gave him a broad hint."

"A broad hint?" repeated the inquirer. "I thought he was one of those who never could be induced to take one."

"By ma saul," said Sir Andrew, "he was obleeged to tak' it! For as the chiel wadna gang oot at the door I just threw him oot of the window!"

Air Pressure.

At the level of the sea the pressure of the atmosphere on the piston of an engine is about fifteen pounds to the square inch, but decreases at higher altitudes. As this atmospheric pressure must be overcome by the steam pressure before any work can be done, it is evident that at the diminished air pressure of high altitudes more work can be obtained from a given pressure of steam than at the sea level, or, in other words, an equally effective pressure of steam can be obtained with the expenditure of less fuel. The difference, however, is not great enough to be of any practical importance.

Bounty For Scalps.

During the French-Indian war of 1754 the French offered a bounty for British scalps. In the same year a bounty of £100 each was offered by the authorities of the several colonies. In 1755 Massachusetts granted a bounty of £40 for every scalp of a male Indian over twelve years of age and £20 each for the scalps of women and children. In 1764 John Penn, grandson of William Penn and governor of Pennsylvania, offered a bounty of $150 for every "Indian buck" killed and scalped.

The Conditions Different.

Husband (with newspaper)—When I'm at home you are forever hammering at that piano or else your tongue is running like a trip hammer. It wasn't so before we were married. Wife—No, it wasn't. Before we were married you held my hands so I couldn't play and kept my lips so busy that I couldn't talk.

Too Much Nothing.

"This cheese is full of holes," complained the prospective purchaser.

"Yes, sir," said the proprietor. "That's right."

"Haven't you got one with the holes full of cheese?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Unconsciousness.

"She's the most unconscious girl I ever saw."

"Well, why shouldn't she be? She's pretty and knows it; she's clever and knows it, and she's good and knows it. What has she to be conscious of?"—Puck.

A cheerful manner makes an important wireless connection with the heart of a prospective customer and transmits an irresistible call for business.—Success Magazine.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

In Far Counties.

When the shower came up the artist, who was walking through New Hampshire on a sketching tour, sought shelter under a tree, where he was soon joined by another wayfarer, a man of middle age, who looked a sort of better class tramp, and indeed was one.

The two entered into conversation, and it came out that the wayfarer was a harness maker by vocation, but a rover by predilection.

"Yes," he said, "I'm a rolling stone. I'm never happy in one place. I'm here today and gone tomorrow. There ain't any fossil about me. I'm on the move all the time. The world is made to see, I say, and I'm bound to see all I can of it."

The artist began to think that he had fallen in with a modern Marco Polo, and by way of leading up to some interesting anecdotes of the antipodes he remarked:

"You must have been quite a traveler."

"Well, that's about so," the man modestly replied. "I reckon I could find my way over New Hampshire with my eyes shut, and I was once two months in Vermont."

Cold That Kills and Cold That Cures.

In England severe cold generally kills a good many people. In certain parts of North America cold still more severe puts new life into them. It requires no argumentation to show that there must be a definite reason for this. The chief reason is that English cold is mostly damp, while in North America it is mostly dry. There is the greatest difference in the world between dry air and damp air. The former is usually air pure and simple, possessing a full quantity of oxygen and often charged highly with ozone. The latter consists of air mixed with the vapor of water. When the former air, fully oxygenated, is breathed it stimulates more powerfully than chamnagne. The latter, less oxygenated and charged with vapor of water, not only does not stimulate, but depresses.—Public Opinion.

Pasta's Wonderful Voice.

Mme. Pasta's voice extended from low A to D in altissimo and was one of the most remarkable illustrations ever furnished of the value of musical culture in overcoming natural blemishes. Her voice was stubborn and unmanageable, but by dint of study and indefatigable perseverance she brought it to a state of perfection that was the admiration of her contemporaries. Her delight was the bravura style of ornament, and where the composer had not been sufficiently liberal in bestowing ornamentation on her part she invented cavatinas of her own and used them with such effect that they were generally regarded as the best part of her singing. She made her first appearance on the stage in 1815, her last in 1850.

The Meaning of Sympathy.

It was a clever Frenchwoman who said: "Those who have suffered much are like those who know many languages. They have learned to understand and to be understood by many. It is an impossibility to fully sympathize with another's experience unless it has been at some time one's own In trouble or grief we turn instinctively to some one whom we know has been through the same experience. It is the old human longing for companionship that shows itself. The feeling is strong within us that she will feel and know with me. Therein lies the meaning of sympathy."

The Minister's Response.

A well known minister of a kirk in Glasgow was one day passing along the High street when he was accosted by a crowd of street gamins, one of whom said mischievously, but with becoming gravity, "D'ye ken, minister, the de'il is deed?" The minister made no immediate response, but on the whole crew reiterating the cry, "The de'il's deed! The de'il's deed!" he turned and, raising his outstretched hands, as if to pronounce a blessing, reported, "Ach, ye puir leetle faithless bairns!"

England's Curiosity Shops.

Many of the curiosity shops planted in the back streets of most country towns in England are simply kept up by large London firms, who, from a prolonged study of human nature, have discovered that people who are shy of buying old furniture or old silver in Bond street or Piccadilly are ready and eager purchasers of precisely the same objects at a rather higher price when they come upon them in the back streets of a country town.

When the Stove Preached.

"De preacher wuzn't feelin' good last meetin' day, an' he made de stove preach de sermon."

"Made de stove preach?"

"Yes; made it redhot fum top ter bottom an' den tol' he sinners ter take a good look at it an' go ter thinkin'!"—Atlanta Constitution.

The Ungrateful Ones.

"Do you think it pays to be generous?" said the man of doubtful mind.

"Well, that depends," replied the philanthropist. "To tell the truth, it isn't the money I've given away that I regret; it's what I've lent!"—Detroit Free Press.

Marine Graveyard.

First Fish—You need not feel so proud, you "old graveyard!" Second Fish—This is an insult. Why do you call me an "old graveyard?" First Fish—Because you are full of bones.

Her Hope.

Josie—I was taken for twenty-five today, and I am only eighteen. Julia—What will you be taken for when you are twenty-five? Josie—For better or worse, I hope.

Like a Miracle.

"The age of miracles has gone," declared the cynic.

"No, it hasn't," said the woman. "My husband told me this morning that he noticed I was wearing last season's hat and gave me money to buy a new one."—Baltimore American.

Heredity.

"Oh, hubby, dear, what do you think are the first words our baby will say?" gurgled Mrs. Matron.

"Well, if she takes after you, they will probably be, 'This is a nice time to come home,'" said the brute.—Portland Telegraph.

Very Much Happier.

A boy reading the verse, "And those who live in cottages are happier than those who sit on thrones," startled the crowd by reading thus: "And those who live in cottages are happier than those who sit on thorns."

Human Nature.

"That fellow Spinks has excellent judgment."

"What makes you think so?"

"Why—er—he's always asking my opinion about things."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shonick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The soothing spray of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an automizer, is an unspeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as a Godsend, and no wonder. The thick, foul discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to cure. Sold by all druggists for 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.
